Bus security cameras have been equipped with audio recording capabilities for some time, and our new building security cameras now include this feature as well. Audio recordings have proven invaluable in utilizing security footage to determine the facts of incidents. Attorney Amy White recommended including audio recording in our security camera policy and ensuring clear signage is posted.

On our buses, we already have signs indicating that both video and audio are recorded. We are currently in the process of posting similar notices in all of our buildings. The proposed policy revision reflects our practice of recording both video and audio with security cameras.
